

Skyland HOM Continues Its Support for Young Designers

Skyland HOM Decoration Center, which brings together the world's and Turkey's most prestigious design and decoration brands under one roof, recently hosted university students—future interior architects—at a panel titled “Designing Extraordinary Spaces.” Organized by LiveArch, which provides events, education, and workshop services in the fields of architecture and design, the panel at Skyland HOM welcomed over 200 architecture, interior design, engineering, and industrial design students from more than 20 universities in Istanbul.

The panel featured Interior Designer Renda Helin Çilalioğlu Çizer, Architects Şeyma Gülmen and Ahmet Vedat Gülmen, and Interior Designer Sinem Özlük as speakers. For two hours, university students learned the details and nuances of extraordinary design from these experts. The speakers also answered questions from aspiring interior designers about spaces and design concepts, sharing their experience and expertise with the students.

Since its opening, Skyland HOM has aimed to support the development of young designers and interior architects. By continuing to host such events, the center maintains its commitment to contributing to the growth of the next generation of design professionals.
